Live Online Programme on Leadership Skills for Technical Professionals
in Banks

Coordinators
Prof B Ashok
Dr Shomi Srivastava

National Institute of Bank Management
Pune, India

Background

Technical practitioners especially in information and technology domains have now become integral to the business strategy and performance of banks. As the banks continue to invest in a wide array of technological areas right from System Support functions to Networking, Programming, Cloud Computing, Data Analytics, Information Security, Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, etc., the need for nurturing and retaining talent acquires greater significance. As technology augments the bankers' strategic thinking, converging management skills and technology would also augment the productivity of technical talent. Such a convergence would enable the technical professionals to get a broader view of the business and management. It would facilitate the technical talent to embark on a path to strategic thinking and broaden their professional horizons. The emerging talent of techno-leaders would understand banking better and help the banks to improve their processes and product offerings.
